

THE NORTHWEST'S FINEST ORGANICALLY GROWN

GATHERING TOGETHER FARM

John Eveland & Sally Brewer
Philomath, Oregon

Gathering Together is a family farm located along Marys River. They profess to being “diversified to the point of chaos”; growing up to 300 varieties of 50 different vegetables each season and about 50 crops for seed. John and Sally truly enjoy being involved in the community. They operate a farm stand and a small restaurant cooking up seasonal fresh-from-the-farm organic fare. Over the summer John is busy hosting farm tours while subbing in to do tractor work, cooking, and farmers markets. Sally manages the continuous flood of produce in the packing shed, keeping track of most of the nuts and bolts that keep the operation running. They operate a large CSA membership program, host a fall pumpkin picking for CSA members, and serve as sponsor for OGC’s annual Tomato War.

Gathering Together

The spirit of community, compassion and mutual respect is deeply rooted in the heart of the farm. Not only did Gathering Together work to become Food Justice Certified, they offer their workers fair wages, meals and a safe workplace.
