Jack Gray & Mary Jo Wade; Wali & Jabrila Via; Chris & Shannon Overbaugh

Noti, Oregon

Winter Green Farm began in the 1980s and is now owned by three families. Their strong farming background and familial roots have kept them close and their employee retention high. On roughly 170 acres, these farmers grow a variety of crops, keeping the soil healthy and their employees happy. Their mission is to be a productive farm in harmony with the earth and humanity. The farm also donates CSA memberships to needy families and women and children recovering from domestic abuse.
